"Meanwhile, failure to hear from city authorities is not delaying hotel officials in completing plans. They are working on construction plans and blue prints now, a job told," Sen. MacKinnon said.

Juvenile Crime Aid to Parents

Responsibility Not Movies Or Comics, Survey Shows

Attention adults, especially parents: You are responsible for juvenile crime. Stop blaming movies and comic books.

This is the majority opinion of those in position to know causes of the juvenile crime wave now sweeping Edmonton.

Extension of authority of juvenile courts to give greater responsibility on parents of children apprehended in favour of Mayor Tully's idea of parental discipline.

Noting a tendency for the home to shelve its responsibility to its children, Mayor Tully says "Nothing anyone else can do can take the place of parental discipline."

Children today are very little different to children of former generations, in Mr. Tully's opinion. He is convinced that "any apparent increase in juvenile delinquency" is because of breakdown of proper home training and influence.

Juvenile courts should obtain authority, if they do not already have it, to place greater responsibility on parents of delinquents. School boards may also join in the chorus of placing more responsibility on parents.

What Edmonton lacks today more than anything else, is a lack of the spirit of service to youth," says Henry White, sports director of Maple Leaf Club. Home influence can be traced in every case which appeared before his court, juvenile court Judge C. F. Willis says.

Movies and comic books undoubtedly have some influence on the child, according to A. George Barry, director of elementary education for the city. "It is so complex today that schools have to share greater responsibility in the lives of the young than in the past," he says. "The greatest difficulty is in getting enough of adults who can follow cases up."

LONG PROCESS "A problem which was created 15 years ago and is not solved by one or two interviews."

Schools today are doing far more for the child than in the past. Children who have responsibilities are being given more responsibility. Children who are being given more responsibility are being given more responsibility.

HOME CONTROL LACKING "Lack of control in the home, not movies nor comic strips are responsible for the juvenile crime wave," says Mayor Tully.

More money should be spent on recreation, Charles Simmons, president of the Federation of Community Leagues.

Industry Says Profit 6 Cents on Dollar Sale

By Forbes Rhude Canadian Press Bureau Editor

ST. ANDREWS-BY-THE-SEA, N.B., June 7.—(CP)—For each dollar of goods it sells, Canadian industry makes only about six cents, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was told today. About three cents of this is paid in dividends.

The figure was reached from a questionnaire by more than 600 firms, with total annual sales of more than $5,000,000,000 and employing 600,000 people.

The result was set out in an address by Hugh Crombie of Montreal, chairman of CMA's education committee.

Details asked Mr. Crombie said, in part: "Members were asked to state how much money they had received during their last fiscal year, both from sales and from other sources. They were also asked to state how much was paid out in dividends and how much was kept for plant improvement and expansion. Surveys of public opinion, and other sources indicate that the average person thinks that manufacturers make a profit which may be as high as 30 per cent. The same people say that the average person thinks that manufacturers make a profit which may be as high as 30 per cent."

"In other words, he has only slightly more than six cents out of every dollar he pays for goods. Shareholders and those funds which he must retain in his business for future expansion and the creation of more goods and jobs for the country."

ANOTHER DEPOT

Wm. Morgan, general traffic manager of Western Canadian Greyhound Lines, in Edmonton for the opening of the new bus terminal here said he will open a new Greyhound terminal in Banff next weekend.

AN OUNCE OF . . .

An old story ever new was told South Side Kewlans today as Walter Sperahott, brewmaster at North West Brewing Company traced the story of barley on its way from the fields to the bottle. Kewlans at regular luncheon in the King Edward hotel heard the brew master explain the process of barley going through malting houses developed into beer and how the beer was aged in storage, pasteurized, poured in kegs and bottled. Mr. Sperahott did not speak lengthily. It being a warm day he "did not wish Kewlans to become too enthused in the subject."

ANOTHER OPINION

In areas where television was available from United States, demand for sets was great. They had to be rationed, according to O. W. Rotomax, general sales manager of Phillips Industries Limited, Montreal. Here with H. McGuire and R. Ross of the company staff to preview advance radio models, Mr. Rotomax said frequency modulation was "the rational of the future." The sooner broadcasters accept that fact the better for all concerned, he said. Because it took one year to erect a broadcast station, and the problem of signal was considerable, he thought it would be some time before western Canada enjoyed video.

Swimming and wading in the North Saskatchewan river in Edmonton has been banned by city police.

Milkmen to Vote On 6-Day Service

400 Dairy Employees Will Ballot During Next Week

Approximately 400 employees of four Edmonton dairies will vote this week on the question of continuing the no-Sunday-milk-delivery plan.

Vote will be taken by milk rig drivers and milk handlers at Edmonton City Dairy, Woodland Dairy, Jasper Dairy and Northern Alberta Dairy Pool.

Approximately 200 employees are members of International Teamsters Union, Local 514.

Balloting will be strictly secret, the men voting on the simple question: "Are you in favor of no Sunday delivery of milk?"

Employees of ECD will vote first Wednesday, followed by Jasper Dairy, NADP and Woodland Dairy that order on successive days. Results should be known Saturday.

FOURTH MONTH OF TRIAL

The no-Sunday-delivery plan went into effect in February for a six-month trial period.

Vote is being taken, union leaders said, to put an end to rumors that many dairies are dissatisfied with the plan because it creates more work Mondays.

The dairies are said to be satisfied with the plan.

Mormons Turn Church Sod

First sod of the new Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints was turned in a ceremony yesterday in a new church building at 108 street and Whyte avenue.

Officiating was Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of mines and resources, and president of the Edmonton branch of Latter Day Saints.

New building will be the first Mormon church in the northern half of the province. Work is expected to start shortly with completion scheduled for the summer of 1951.

The T-shape church will have a spacious chapel, six Sunday school rooms and six basement classrooms, as well as a main auditorium and stage for community meetings, plays and concerts.

Exterior will have modern brick and set stone facing. Four large pillars will stand before the entrance to the church foyer.

Nearly 100 persons witnessed the sod-turning ceremony. A man of church and affairs attending were Arthur McMillin, first councillor and assistant to Mr. Tanner; V. A. Wood, second councillor; Morgan Picheur, chairman of the building committee and A. L. Low, finance committee chairman.

World Air Centre

The new bilateral air agreement just signed between Canada and the United States in fact is as well as in promise. Hitherto, the Northwest Airlines which has been operating the Alaskan and Oriental route through this city has been permitted only to refuel here.

Among the several terms of the new agreement, they are now permitted to pick up and discharge passengers in Edmonton.

Another concession is the extension to Edmonton of the present line from Great Falls to Lethbridge.

These two arrangements will give this city two direct air lines into the United States. And one of them continues on to the Orient.

It will bring this city within a comparatively few hours of the great cities of Asia.

We have been talking for years about Edmonton as a great world air centre.

This present development translates that hope into an accomplished fact.

And with every such civic dream that comes true there is a greater well-being of every civic dream coming true.

But this actual inclusion of Edmonton in the routes of global air traffic should not be the signal for Edmonton citizens to relax under the false sense of complete accomplishment.

It is only at the beginning of Edmonton's air career because the new service will be of value to this community as we promote it and exploit it.

The most essential step is to develop an air consciousness in this city capable of undertaking that vital promotion.

A great annual air show would help immeasurably and the Chamber of Commerce should receive all possible encouragement and assistance in proceeding with its plans with or without the co-operation of the Exhibition Association.

More Prosperity Shown In Belgium Than In France

Brussels, Belgium.—We caught our bus after 11. We were down to the Italian consulate before eight—only to find their opening hours were then when that hour came and we got up stairs to the visa office, the door was shut and no sign of life.

Finally a kindly faced woman came and we waited for 15 minutes. Then when that hour came and we finally got our visa, it was 10 o'clock. Meanwhile the catch was how late it was.

In Paris, you don't just phone for a cab. You go out on the highways and flag one. But where are the highways?

The wife had the job of getting the taxi. She explained that she was to a street cleaner by saying over and over again: "Taxi-taxi-vite, taxi-taxi, taxi-taxi-vite, taxi-taxi."

The street cleaner was so impressed that he went along with the good lady (broom in hand) and he took the blocks and helped her get a cab.

One was the Forest of Compiègne, where the Germans signed the Armistice of November, 1918, and where the Germans literally and physically danced in holy glee when he compelled the government of betrayal, France to sign a reverse surrender in June, 1940.

One was the battle of Cambrai, Valenciennes and Mons and several other of the spots with immortal names.

We saw no sign of that First World War—that long forgotten "war to end war" or "war to make Belgium safe for democracy." But we did see many crude painted signs on walls calling on the Belgians to resist the war.

In Belgium, a town speaker was giving a speech in a town square. He had the benefit of a loud speaker arrangement in his automobile. He had a microphone in the place was listening.

Grossly Deceiving Their Masters

The Russians should do something about cutting down the pay of Soviet spies who operate in Canada in the United States. Or they should scrutinize a little more closely the reports received in Moscow from Canadian Communists.

For these people are grossly deceiving their masters and it doesn't seem to be fair.

As an instance, the Moscow Pravda carried an article in a recent issue which said this:

"The majority of Canadian papers acknowledge that 40 per cent of the members of parliament left the house of commons, March 28, in order not to vote on the Atlantic Pact."

The article then went on to say that the Prime Minister rushed the general election in Canada. It was in preparation for presenting the Atlantic Pact to parliament for ratification.

The article seems to be slightly inconsistent. Certainly it ignores the fact that the Atlantic Pact was ratified before the election.

It would seem that Soviet spies and Canadian Communists are being overpaid. Or are they merely turning in glowing reports in order to justify their existence to the Politburo?

That august body seems to be getting gipped.

The Day That Was Ignored

Does Canada have a King?

Certainly. Even the smallest child can tell you that.

Then why do Canadians, including top officials of the government, seem to go out of their way to insult him?

June 6, Monday, was his birthday. He was celebrated as His Majesty's birthday. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that he was set aside to be ignored, for that seems to be what was done.

It is true the King's birthday was really on December 14. But, through custom and precedent, the date for the celebration was changed in order that British people throughout the world would be able to celebrate under better weather conditions.

And what happened?

Because no one in authority took any definite stand on the matter most Canadians, at least, didn't even know Monday was even a partial holiday. Many were confused to go to a bank and discover it was closed, while all other businesses remained open. The government offices closed, and the offices in the civic block remained open.

Working through the King's birthday would not be an ideal. But the lack of attitude taken towards it by some, complete ignorance of it by others, and partial observance of it by still others, certainly is a disgrace.

One cannot help but wonder what must be the impression, say, of an American King, who, perplexed by this partial closing, makes inquiries only to find a good many Canadians don't even know it's the King's birthday.

"Major Deal" In Oil Rights

Editor, Bulletin.—Even we, in far off places as from where I am writing, have much common contact with a pulse of life in our nation.

I have just been informed by the Bulletin that a major deal involving about $80,000,000 of oil rights in Alberta and Saskatchewan was announced by Mr. S. Adams, president of Phillips Petroleum Co. of Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Really folks, I don't get it! It's a ways away from the money that Canada is for Canada first, last and all here and there, but it's a big deal for a pot of gold for foreigners.

Why put any other route and above Canadian enterprise? Don't we have brains to make use of our own resources?

Depression Memories

Editor, Bulletin.—Dear Mr. Editor! All about the Progressive Conservatives. Who are they, where do they come from, what do they want?

Oh, yes, now I remember something about them. I think it was the thirties. Unemployment, hunger, cold, and a general feeling of despair. In pre-depression years were unemployed, hungry, and cold. They were not for them, threw out the engine and attached the pole and double-tree and so used the vehicle for transportation.

ODDS AND ENDS

Why Does Nobody Ever Do Anything About the Weather?

Like all perverse and bad-tempered persons, I have an intimate quarrel with the weather.

Thousands of people, so I am informed, take whatever weather comes their way and do not do a word of complaint or remonstrance.

I have never met one of these people, but I am inclined to think they exist.

But I should like to make it clear that my filicide last night up to its abominable worst, not by the kind of weather we actually get, but by the kind of weather we are constantly promised and never get.

In short, my rage is not with good old Mother Nature but with her male handmaiden in the meteorological service in Edmonton.

For instance, I don't mind rain at all. In fact I am prepared for it. In fact, like some other blossoms of rare hair and delicate fragrance, I rather thrive on a good soaking.

But when the weatherman says "clear and clear" and when it does, and I am off like the lily of the field and come home with my trousers or socks soggy, why damn it, all, something should be done about it.

not a drop of moisture fell upon me. But, when, relying on the wily weatherman, I ventured forth in my raincoat, meteorologically speaking I mean.

At one time or another I have been asked rather a puerile question, "What do you do for a living?" I have answered, "I am a meteorologist." I have been asked, "What do you do for a living?" I have answered, "I am a meteorologist."

So we actually were in plenty of time for the Swedish Trans-European bus.

They call it Linjebus—and on excellent service. It has big blue coaches with sliding roofs which they keep open in good weather and close through slushy nights like Paris. Each bus carries two European and one stewardess. There is even a toilet built on in these coaches.

They sell you a ticket which includes the price of hotel rooms and meals on board. You have no money, no worry about rooms or baggage. But you have to pay for your breakfast.

They manage to get quite a gay holiday spirit aboard these buses.

On his "off shift" one smiling big Swede acts as a sort of stewardess. He has a moustache and sings well himself. He gets the whole group happy, if not singing on his own.

The stewardess is small, neat, and very competent. She speaks all languages. She handles all the border crossings. As she

These all-too-frequent forecasts that don't have an exaggerated effect upon my sensitive nature are not since I purchased myself a raincoat but a week or so ago. It is all in it, it is a remarkably new in the rain, and when it is worn in the sunshine it looks on me as if I were a put on to put on a new point upon it, it looks like a hat.

Trivia

Color contrasts in spring models are best sellers in Britain—a grey dress and beige coat, for example, is selling well. This is quite a new departure and is likely to have its effect in the autumn styles. Another point which is interesting buyers is that those coats will remain much more popular than fitted styles. In fact, every other woman seems to be wearing one; and many short loose jackets have been sold. Another revival is the terno-on-cork-dress which has been ignored for years and which as a result of the fact that it was not better made, but now that they will sweep into popu-

Yellowhead Route Favored

Editor, Bulletin.—In an editorial in your paper of May 26th, under the title "Candidates and Yellowhead Route" you stated that the candidates in the present federal election should state their position with regard to the Yellowhead Highway.

The Progressive Conservative Party, Jackman, and the Union Party, who candidate I have not named, have all promised me my fight for the Yellowhead Route.

I support this route with firm conviction, for the reasons which you have so ably put forth from time to time in the columns of your newspaper. George Drew, your party leader, has publicly and clearly stated that his party is elected to office in the next election, he will immediately appoint a commission of impartial experts to go into the matter of the route and this highway should take, in consultation with the requirements of the province and the

From Today's News

Moscow at long last apparently is getting set to take a major hand in the development of a China that rapidly is coming under control of the Chinese Communists.

Moscow's caution may have been largely due to the fact that Mao is a powerful leader and has been in the forefront of the revolution which doesn't fit in with Russia's belief that the sovereignty of Communist Russia must rest with her. In short, there has been too much of a tug-of-war between Mao was developing into another Valentin. This who would represent Russia in the Soviet Union.

Whether this does indeed represent Mao's attitude remains to be seen. He is a good deal of an enigma.

In any event, it will take a number of months before the Soviet Union to proceed with sending a plenipotentiary to meet with Mao. It will be surprising to find that the Soviet Union is of one tempered attitude and is in the Soviet Union.

Hereafter Russia has played a very cautious game. She brought

International Situation Dangerous, Says Pearson

A warning that the international situation will remain dangerous because Communist strategy "never changes" emerged last night from the campaign for Canada's June 27 general election.

It came from External Affairs Minister Pearson, the career diplomat who entered the cabinet last fall, as he addressed a campaign meeting in Montreal. He said the way the Communists have opposed the Atlantic Security Pact indicates they will continue to do so.

As the country-wide campaign now in full swing, moved into its fifth week, Prime Minister St. Laurent returned to his home riding of Quebec East and told his constituents that Progressive Conservative proposals to deviate the Canadian dollar would bring "chaos" to Canada within a year.

Gregory Peck has been reading "The Glass Menagerie" script and may do the film after "12 O'Clock High." That would add up to a high-volume cast. Already set are Jane Wyman as the daughter and Jack Carson as the father. Helen Hayes and Tullulah Bankhead are being sought for the mother role.

Canadian-born Jack Carson is warring with Warner. He objects to being the studio's utility man while other male stars get the acting plum. Carson, a native of Canada, might like to do one high comedy, one low comedy and one drama a year. But he hasn't been given a drama since "Mildred Pierce."

Claire Trevor was asked on "the Henderson" set if winning an Academy Award has affected her career. "Sure," she answered. "I want to win another one now. The first one is easy; it only took me 15 years. It's the second that's hard."

Pauline Goddard claims she has no money mind, but what other star can get paid $150,000 for doing nothing? That's what she collected for not doing "Yellow Sky." After she was signed, tests showed she wasn't right for the role. Anne Baxter substituted.

Ray Milland, who has the fishing bug, takes off soon for Haibos and ocean fishing and then east for Yellowstone and trout. Ray asked for some photos of his action scenes in "Copper Canyon." It seems his son is a Gary Cooper fan and Ray wanted to prove he can be as rugged.

Sam Goldwyn may shelve his "Earth and High Heaven," for which he paid a heavy sum. He can't get a workable script, and there have been too many other films on the shelves. The book, a best-seller, was by Gwendolyn Graham of Montreal.

BIG SURPRISE: For daddy came when Able Seaman Dan McKee of Rocky Mountain House arrived back in Esquimaut after being away four months on the RCN destroyer Crescent in Pacific and Chinese waters. The surprise was the way his eight-month-old daughter Virginia had grown. With them is Mrs. McKee, who brought the child to meet her father.

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Frank Sinatra will mark his 10th anniversary in show business during a concert engagement, June 25 at Atlantic City's Steel Pier.

He has asked his fan clubbers all over the world to send him postcards depicting their home towns. After he reads them, the cards will be sent to children's wards in hospitals.

Now a $100,000 industry, Sinatra has come a long way since he decided to abandon sports writing for singing 10 years ago.

Count Tricks First Is Excellent Rule

By William E. McKenney
Oswald Jacoby was in my office the other day, and we were discussing sick-handled game. One of the best sick-handled game is to have three people on a side, two playing and one sitting out. At the end of each hand, one player from each side drops out, and the other player takes his place.

We both decided this would be an ideal way to play sick-handled bridge. You would sit out one hand, then you would play two.

Counting your tricks sometimes has to be done two ways. Either count your winners or count your losers. Declarer knew that he had a losing heart and club. Therefore, he could afford to lose one diamond. He was watching it. He was watching it. He was watching it.

How easy it would have been to make the hand, had he simply cashed the ace of diamonds, ruffed the deuce of diamonds with the ten of spades, returned to his hand by playing dummy's five of spades, ruffed the four of diamonds with the jack of spades, and now he should cash the queen of spades. Returning to his hand with the ace of clubs, the last trump should be picked up and the jack of diamonds led, letting West win with the king. Now he has held his losers to three tricks.

CAHA Meeting Finishes

NEW YORK, June 7—(CP)—The 32nd annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association ended last night with the association's policy of sending teams to Europe for world championships and exhibition tours still to be decided. Delegates expected some time in July or August.

WOLVES ISSUE
The issue, upshot of Sunday Wolves' three-month trip to Europe, will be settled at the discretion of the executive.

Wolves were defeated by Czechoslovakia for the world title in Stockholm. Delegates here declared that if any clubs are sent to the future they must be of high-class calibre.

A financial statement on the CAHA's operations of Allan and Memorial cup playoffs and championship games showed a surplus of $162,000. Association keeps a flat $50,000 and the remainder is spent on branches for minor hockey purposes, payment to all clubs in cup playoffs, donations to a "special national purpose," and a small turn to the CAHA reserve fund.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY
This year, the four clubs reaching the Allan and Memorial cup championships received a total of $35,625, based on $925 a game given by the CAHA for team expenses. Broken down it is:
Ottawa Senators, Allan Cup champions, $220 for 10 games; Regina Capitals, Allan Cup finalists, $250 for 14 games; Montreal Royals, Memorial Cup champions, $975 for 15 games; and Brandon Wheat Kings, defeated in the final Memorial Cup game, $11,250 for 18 games.
Each club received an additional $500 for qualifying as finalists.

Purity Player Recupercating

Butch Dow, outfielder with Calgary Purity of the Big Four baseball league is in hospital today recovering from a broken ankle.

Dow suffered the injury in a game between Purity and Eskimos here Friday as he attempted to slide into second base. He is not expected to play in this year's playoffs.

Leroy Bernadon, another Purity outfielder, was released from hospital here Sunday after he suffered a slight concussion, inflicted in a ball pitched back to him in a game between Eskimos and Purity Saturday.

Alberta Cricket Contingent Named

Team which will represent Alberta in the Dominion cricket tournament, to be held here and in Calgary during the last week in July, has been named by the provincial selection committee.

Final choice was $20,000 following the second of two inter-city cricket matches Saturday between Edmonton and Calgary. Edmonton, with 10th place.

Jack Edwards, Jim Weaver, Harry Roberts, Morris Grant, Ken Fraser, and Bill Jones, all of the Purity team, were named to the team.

For the McManus-McConnell Retain Net Laurels

The McManus-McConnell combination has successfully defended the cup against all comers since the winter of 1940 after it was won in 1947. This was the first challenge of the present season.

Dust in Eyes Fails Halt S.S. Ball-Hawks

The dust got in their eyes at Clarke Stadium last night, but that didn't deter South Side Athletics from getting into the box with a 5-1 victory in a junior baseball game.

There wasn't much batting in the first half of the game, but the performance was enough to win their sixth straight game of the season and move 3½ games ahead of the place.

Properly Doug Kilburne slammed out three singles to spark South Side's third shutout. His booming drive in the fourth of the fifth inning drove in four of the five runs.

Lefty Don Wynn easily won his second game of the campaign, setting EAC batters down on three hits. He struck out 10 in the abbreviated six-inning contest.

In what would appear there was EAC second baseman, Wally Lauchman, played a leading role. He overplayed the part, though, and was thumped from the game after saying some unkind words to umpire Ben Kelli in the fifth inning.

BULL-PEN BANTER
Team managers once more will meet the annual meeting of the league in July.

Colin Shaw, team president, showed in only one game this season. The Canadian champion, who is in Calgary, is scheduled in the first game of the grain buying.

CAHA 'LONGCHAIRS' VISIT CARNEGIE HALL

NEW YORK, June 7—(CP)—The CAHA has gone big 'brown'.

Delegates to the 32nd annual meeting, at the concluding session last night, passed a resolution which established two scholarships to be known as the Canadian Amateur Hockey association cultural scholarships in music, painting, and drama.

Each is worth $2,000 and may be taken in Britain, Europe or the United States starting next September.

It is open to Canadian citizens over 18 and under 30 years of age—one from the east and the other from western Canada.

Candidates must be "students of such outstanding calibre in either of the above mentioned fields that they will be able to take full advantage of opportunities offered by the scholarship."

Dr. George Hardy, classics professor at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, and a life member of the CAHA, introduced the resolution.

'MAN TO BEAT' in Winnipeg's $2,000 Jubilee Open golf tournament, which started today, is Stan Leonard, long driving Vancouver pro, according to majority of contestants.

BRANCH RICKY
... Under fire.

Pittsburgh Chief Raps B. Rickey

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—Frank McKinley, president of Pittsburgh Pirates, yesterday accused Branch Rickey of peddling off a sore-arm outfielder to him and said he paid to protect to baseball commissioner A. C. Gideon.

McKinley said outfielder Marvin Rickard had a sore arm when Brooklyn Dodgers traded him to the Pirates last month for outfielder Johnny Hoak and $25,000 in cash.

Furthermore, McKinley said, Rickard's arm had been hurt in spring training and Rickard had not reported to him when the deal was made.

Rickey said he and Brooklyn manager Burdette Shotton were notified of Rickard's sore arm and he would be happy to turn the matter over to the league.

Rickey started a few games for the Pirates but was benched when he failed to throw properly.

Norm Kimball Suspended By Callahan
Junior baseball president Emory Callahan cracked the whip tonight by suspending Norm Kimball of the EAC for "conduct unbecoming."

The EAC third baseman-accused Callahan under the stands during last night's EAC-South Side game at Clarke Stadium and insulted the president with abusive language.

Kimball's beef to the president concerned last night's game. He felt that Callahan should have called the game off in lieu of the fact that wind and dust made playing conditions miserable.

Kimball made his mistake when he lost his temper. As a result he will be on the sidelines when EAC play on June 10 and 12.

Woodwards Upsets UIC by 18-9
Woodwards thumped the University of Illinois 18-9 in an intermediate men's football game at Borden Park last night as the UIC crew kicked the ball around for 18 errors.

Cyril Smith of the losers charged in with a home run and triple for the big hits of the game.

CAHA Returns Pickard et al

They are: president, A. W. Pickard, Regina; first vice-president, D. G. Grimston, New Westminster; second vice-president, W. R. George, Kamloops; and secretary-manager, George A. Spry, McLeod, Ont. W. A. (Bibi) Hewitt of Toronto was re-elected registrar-treasurer.

Baxter Loses to Mills But Revives Vaudeville

When Baxter prevented Mills from re-entering the ring referee Butler Boy Higgins attempted to restrain the action boy. Whereupon Baxter delivered five punches to the referee's chest, thereby forfeiting his chances of winning the match.

Baxter's midsummer beat him better. Baxter, the villain, slammed a fist of pique and hoisted Mills into the lap of a blonde dame located in the fourth row.

Norm Kimball Suspended By Callahan
Junior baseball president Emory Callahan cracked the whip tonight by suspending Norm Kimball of the EAC for "conduct unbecoming."

The EAC third baseman-accused Callahan under the stands during last night's EAC-South Side game at Clarke Stadium and insulted the president with abusive language.

Kimball's beef to the president concerned last night's game. He felt that Callahan should have called the game off in lieu of the fact that wind and dust made playing conditions miserable.

Kimball made his mistake when he lost his temper. As a result he will be on the sidelines when EAC play on June 10 and 12.

Devine Pays Off As Esks Top Cubs

NEW YORK, June 7—(CP)—The CAHA has gone big 'brown'.

Delegates to the 32nd annual meeting, at the concluding session last night, passed a resolution which established two scholarships to be known as the Canadian Amateur Hockey association cultural scholarships in music, painting, and drama.

Each is worth $2,000 and may be taken in Britain, Europe or the United States starting next September.

It is open to Canadian citizens over 18 and under 30 years of age—one from the east and the other from western Canada.

Candidates must be "students of such outstanding calibre in either of the above mentioned fields that they will be able to take full advantage of opportunities offered by the scholarship."

Dr. George Hardy, classics professor at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, and a life member of the CAHA, introduced the resolution.

'MAN TO BEAT' in Winnipeg's $2,000 Jubilee Open golf tournament, which started today, is Stan Leonard, long driving Vancouver pro, according to majority of contestants.

Pittsburgh Chief Raps B. Rickey

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—Frank McKinley, president of Pittsburgh Pirates, yesterday accused Branch Rickey of peddling off a sore-arm outfielder to him and said he paid to protect to baseball commissioner A. C. Gideon.

McKinley said outfielder Marvin Rickard had a sore arm when Brooklyn Dodgers traded him to the Pirates last month for outfielder Johnny Hoak and $25,000 in cash.

Furthermore, McKinley said, Rickard's arm had been hurt in spring training and Rickard had not reported to him when the deal was made.

Rickey said he and Brooklyn manager Burdette Shotton were notified of Rickard's sore arm and he would be happy to turn the matter over to the league.

Double Election Pressed in B.C.

Federal Issues Ignored By Provincial Leaders

VANCOUVER, June 7.—(CP)—It's a "double election" for British Columbia but there is no conflict between federal and provincial campaigns.

With but a week left until the June 15 provincial election, final "campaign punches" were prepared today.

The issues are reminiscent of the 1943 campaign. There is little talk. There is a record list of 640,364 persons eligible to cast ballots. This is an increase of 173,042 over the 467,322 in 1943.

Premier Johnson weeks re-election in the New Westminster, Mr. Johnson in Vancouver East, and Finance Minister McEwen in the Progressive Conservative, in Oak Bay, Victoria.

In the federal campaign, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, has visited the province, and Prime Minister St. Laurent will be shortly before the elections were announced. CCF leader M. J. Coldwell is due this week.

But it will not be until after the provincial balloting that the traditional rivalry between Liberals and Progressive Conservatives is resumed.

Few surprises show in the list of candidates. To the voter the biggest is the return of Hon. H. H. Stevens, 70-year-old veteran of parliamentarianism, war-time, and three times a cabinet minister. He is a Progressive Conservative candidate for Vancouver Centre, filling the vacancy created when Ernest Herwood, nominated candidate, withdrew last week.

A week from federal nomination the Liberals have 16 candidates entered; the Progressive Conservatives 16 and the CCF 17. Total for the 18 constituencies is 52. Including three Labor-Progressive and one Independent. He for there is no Social Credit candidates.

RECORD VOTERS LIST In the last legislation, the coalition had 36 members against 11 CCF and one Labor.

Most surprised man in the election is George M. Phillips, representative of the CCF. A veteran of 16 elections, he finds the voters list beyond all pre-election forecasts.

THIS PUSS WEALTHY AS TABBY CATS GO

Miss Krenn left the money to provide for life-long care for the nine-year-old tabby, Miss Krenn died May 19 at the age of 70.

The will also left $3,000 to the Bide-A-Wee Home Association, a New York animal shelter to which Miss Krenn had sent several cats.

Berle Burlesque Heats Star to Lawsuit Pitch

HOLLYWOOD, June 7.—(AP)—Dorothy Kirsten, Metropolitan Opera singer, threatened yesterday to sue comedian Milton Berle for burlesquing her talents on his television show.

It wasn't funny, she fumed. In fact the act, "was so horrible."

Miss Kirsten said that the National Broadcasting Company has promised to delete that portion of the Berle show before a film of it is presented to west-coast audiences Tuesday night.

The burlesque, she explained, went as follows:

Berle and two pudgy assistants appeared on the stage and announced that Dorothy Kirsten would sing the drinking song from Verdi's "La Traviata."

At this point, a girl in a "hideous blonde wig" came on and rendered a vocal pastiche with a "screching record" of unknown origin providing the sound effects.

"People think it's my voice!" the opera star snarled. "It's the most horrible thing you ever heard."

Miss Kirsten said she will fly to New York Thursday and confer with her lawyers to determine the amount to be involved in the suit.

Miss Kirsten added that La Traviata has been her biggest musical success. But there's just one hitch, namely:

"I've never made a recording of the drinking song."

In New York, Berle issued this statement through his lawyer, Irving Kaufman:

"It is difficult for me to believe that Miss Kirsten would have

World Health, Peace Aim of Doctors Meet

SASKATOON, June 7.—(CP)—Delegates from 10 British Commonwealth countries met today to pool their medical knowledge for the ultimate purpose of assisting all peoples of the world to attain the quickest possible level of health.

Represented at the first annual meeting of the British Commonwealth medical conference are Australia, Canada, Ceylon, Eire, Great Britain, India, New Zealand, Pakistan, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia.

Dr. T. Clarence Routley of Toronto, conference secretary, described the three-day meeting as a miniature world medical association conference and with the same aims as exist in staging a world health level and in obtaining world peace.

HEALTH FIRST

"If the doctors of the world can't get together nobody else can," he said in an interview. "Appendicitis or a broken leg is the same in any part of the world. We can't have a peaceful world until we have a healthful world."

Dr. Charles Hill, secretary of the British Medical Association, emphasized the conference's value as a means of expanding medical experience, made more easy as all countries met in terms of equality of members of the British Commonwealth and in the absence of language difficulties.

CONFERENCES A FOCUS

Dr. Hill said the conferences, which would circulate either annually or every two years among the represented countries, would give time focus attention on medical practices in the varied countries.

"Hand in hand with medical enlightenment, Dr. Routley said, will be laid a foundation for world peace."

"It may take some time for the impact to be felt by the world, but it will be felt," he said. "The minority of healing is a common denominator. We are not a creed or sect. There are no cross-currents in medicine."

Crew Cleared, Batory Sails

NEW YORK, June 7.—(AP)—The Polish liner Batory sailed yesterday after her crew was cleared of any implication in the escape of Gerhard Eisler.

The luxury liner had been under close scrutiny since she docked Saturday.

C. H. Pennington, of the federal immigration service, said crew members questioned at his office "have been cleared of any implication in the flight of Eisler from this country aboard the Batory."

The Batory left for Southampton, the port where Eisler was taken ashore during his runaway flight last month.

The Batory's skipper, Capt. Jan Chydzinski, said Eisler was final passenger away aboard his ship and "I hope he is the last."

The message was distributed to hundreds of pastors in Berlin and in Russian-occupied Brandenburg, which surrounds the city.

Mexico Cancels U.S. Oil Contract

TAMPIO, Mexico, June 7.—(UP)—The government-owned oil monopoly was reported today to have cancelled the drilling contract of an American company because of a shortage of money in the monopoly.

The contract was held by the Weigand Oil Co. of Dallas whose 15 engineers here are preparing to go home.

Details of the Weigand contract have not been made public. But they are believed to be similar to those in the Edwin J. Pauley agreement calling for the drilling of a series of wells in Tabasco and Vera Cruz states.

"No record whatsoever was broadcast of Miss Kirsten's voice, and actually the singing was that of a very capable and charming singer, Miss Katherine Mastice who was being given a chance for the first time in her career to appear in television and exhibit her fine talent."

"I am certain that Miss Kirsten, upon calmer consideration, will at the very least offer Miss Mastice her deepest apologies for her ill-tempered description of Miss Mastice's physical appearance."

Here's my '25,000 question

What's the answer?

"I've TOTALLED UP MY ASSETS — the equity in my house — stocks and bonds — insurance and savings. They come to just over $25,000."

"I realize that this is not a large 'estate', but it should be managed for the best advantage of my family. Now whom should I appoint as Executor of my Will?"

"If I appoint my wife, to whom will she turn for guidance? If I appoint a friend, will he have the ability and the time to manage my estate? Or should I name a trust company whose business it is to administer estates?"

The answer is that there is no substitute for experience and specialized knowledge. That is one reason why more than half of the estates in National Trust charge are for $25,000 or less.

Whether your estate is small or large, you will be wise to appoint National Trust as your Executor.

Welfare Prison Work Keeps Mrs. Pitman Busy

Few world-travellers have as unusual a list of correspondents in the Old Country as the Hon. Mrs. Isaac Pitman!

At every stop in the round-the-world tour that has taken her from England to Australia, New Zealand, Honolulu and Canada, she has sent postcards to inmates of women's prisons in England.

Welfare work with women prisoners has been a major hobby for the Hon. Mrs. Pitman since a friend interested her in it about 12 years ago.

Osaka Prison Farm near Vancouver is the only women's prison that Mrs. Pitman has visited in Canada, but she was most impressed by it. It has the most modern facilities and equipment she has seen in her trip. She commented particularly on the fine library, working handicraft projects, and bright airy living quarters.

The former Margaret Beaulieu, Mrs. Pitman is the daughter of the late Lord Luke, and has four children. Her home is in London.

Child Welfare Project In Offing for Stagettes

Organization of a national child welfare project for the Stagette Clubs is an idea born of the fifth annual district convention here at the week-end.

Sessions were held in the Macdonald hotel with district governor Betty Culbertson presiding.

Mrs. Culbertson gave voice to the child welfare project idea in her address to the gathered members. Stagettes assist in maintenance of Maidstone Street School, in England, as a national effort.

A resolution to the welfare project was formed and will be presented to the national convention in Leithbridge, B. C. in August.

CHURCH PARADE TOO

Church parades will be held Sunday morning at all Saints Cathedral and St. Joseph's Cathedral.

Edmonton club members were notified at a noon luncheon in the Macdonald hotel dining room. Mrs. Culbertson and Miss O'Neil received with Miss Parsons at the governor's tea Sunday afternoon at the St. John Ambulance club room. Pouring tea were Mrs. F. L. O'Neil and Mrs. Robert Ramsay.

CITY WELCOMES GIRLS

Welcome to the city was extended by Alderman George Gleave on behalf of Mayor Harry D. Ainlay. Miss Barbara Chisholm greeted the delegates for the home club.

In her governor's address, Mrs. Culbertson stressed the fact that, with the greater demands placed upon us by the modern world, we are forced to give more usefulness of ourselves.

She told delegates that the common bond should be strengthened by a regular club association, and that their common task should be to assist others.

MISS OLIVER ELECTED

Miss Joan Oliver of Calgary was elected district governor.

Tinned Tomatoes Sell At Old 17c Price Again

By Ben Thrifty

The day has come! I was afraid I'd never see tinned tomatoes selling at two tins for 35c again. The years have been many since the last 17c tin of tomatoes.

But today I bought two large tins for that same 35c. Do you suppose that's a sign of something?

Another thing... I sneaked a chocolate milk shake on my diet today... and I just paid one thin dime for it. They've been 15c each for many months.

Here's another tear in our bucket of sorrow: I saw in our government's budget to liberally allow us to send money to Communist China for all the lovely items, like in bedwork, we've been asked to "Most shop proprietors are keeping their fingers crossed about the supplies from China."

All the exultantly-embraced pillowcases, the intricately worked straw linen dinner clothes... all the hand-work of the patient, skilled fingers of the Chinese may be lost to us for another era of grief. We soon shall be of grief.

But a word in another direction and I must tell you of a splendid news now gracing the shelves of our favored the grocer. It's tinned tomato soup.

It's a flavorful tomato jelly, ready-to-serve and delicious for 25c per tin. For many years, I looked longingly at the mouth-watering temptations pictured in the big magazines... of the tomato soup that is... how have I lived out.

Now, I can brew up a mighty tasty soup myself... given plenty of time. This tinned tomato is a wonderful thing to have on the refrigerator shelf in case of emergency.

When unexpected company comes... you may suppose that a family dinner into a company banquet with the help of goodies like this tinned tomato soup.

Local gardeners are proud as peacocks these days... proud of their beets, lettuce, onions and radishes. Before many days have passed we'll be enjoying local-grown new potatoes, peas and

Well I never saw the best of this. Now the men have taken to carrying their fingers... For goodness sake... what next? I saw men's underwear shorts on display in a local store today.

In colors of green, blue, pink, yellow and a violent shade of turquoise. They sell for 98c per pair... but somehow I can't see my husband taking kindly to them... can you?

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Should Not Endure Lazy, Slothful Wife

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married seven years and have four children. My wife is a strong, healthy, able-bodied woman, but she is so lazy that she will not lift a hand to make us a comfortable home.

The children are uncared for. They are dirty and look like little tramps with their unwashed faces and matted hair.

Our home is filthy. My wife is so untidy personally that she is repulsive.

She won't do the laundry for three or four weeks at a time. We never have any food that is fit to eat. The beds are never made up until I do.

I have to do all of the housework or it would never be done. I have told my wife that I will get a divorce and put the children in a home unless she changes her ways.

I have gone through seven years of hell and I can stand no more of this. Can I do?

Answer: If anyone ever wonders what drives married men to drink and philandering, they will find the answer in this letter. It is trifling wives. And don't think that they are not common.

Believe it or not, I get hundreds of letters from desperate men who work hard to support their families but who are balked by wives who are so slothful they will not even keep themselves clean, or change the bedsheet.

It is true, of course, that men women do take a pride in their homes and in keeping them tidy and comfortable, and that they make every effort to give their husbands and children good food, but there are plenty of slackers who are allergic to brooms and mop and whose families never know any home that isn't an understudy for a pigsty.

All of us know husbands who have to get up and cook their own breakfasts, if they have any, and who, after a hard day's work, have to clean the house and get the dinner because their wives are too lazy and trifling to do it.

And goodness only knows who will suffer if it when there is an orphan asylum and a divorce court handy around the corner. The remedy is to leave them to their own devices.

If husbands only had the spirit to say, "If you will not work, better say you eat," wives would get busy. For the flaccid ladies all have good appetites.

WHY GROW OLD

New Mothers Should Take Some Exercise

By Josephine Lowman

A recent letter from a young mother asks, "Is there any reason to reduce my waistline and abdomen, or diet, in between children? My son is 15 months old and we intend to have another child."

Yes indeed there is! I once asked a nationally distinguished obstetrician if there is any reason at all for permanent loss of figure in young mothers. He replied, "No. Only ignorance or indifference. There is no permanent spread in the bony structure."

The only figure aftermath from motherhood consists of stretched muscles or too many pounds. If you allow the latter to slip on you while you gain abdominal stretch, you will be the old "I am eating for two."

Of course you were eating for two but that's not much that you should indulge in rich delicacies, nibble salad and all day, do lay down with buttered rolls and whipped cream!

If you gain a few pounds, or many, get rid of them before your next pregnancy. Otherwise the accumulated stretch will provide you with a difficult job. Then too there is indication that delivery is more difficult when overweight is present.

As for the muscles, they have been stretched and you can re-condition them by exercise. Why ponder? If you allow the latter to slip on you while you gain abdominal stretch, you will be the old "I am eating for two."

These two are fine beginners. Lie on the floor on your back. Bend your left knee up close to your abdomen. Stretch the leg toward the ceiling. Lower the leg to the floor with a stiff knee. Do the same thing with your right leg and continue, alternating left and right.

Now lie on the floor on your back. Bend both knees up close to your abdomen. Stretch the legs toward the ceiling. Lower the legs to the floor with a stiff knee. Do the same thing with your right leg and continue, alternating left and right.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby Can Be Taught To Sleep by Himself

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When parents take the easy road and bring the child into their bed to sleep, they should not be surprised when this habit becomes a fixed one. However convenient at the moment, it is well to ask whether it is one they want to cultivate for the future.

Mrs. J. B. said that when her baby was sick in the winter, she put him to sleep in her bed, to be sure that he stayed covered. "Now it is impossible to get him to sleep in his own bed," she writes, "and even if he is in his own bed, he still wakes for a bottle every night. He gets an adequate amount of food in daytime and I think this is just a habit."

There are some children who become addicted to any habit which is attached to sleep. It would seem that your child once established in this way of going to sleep, and long accustomed to your arms, would find it difficult to adjust himself to different habits.

It is probable that drastic changes of routine and habit would make him more determined and stubborn. Work at it tactfully. Put the baby's crib right next to your bed. Try putting him to bed in it and stand beside him, patting him gently or just holding his hand.

If you have to put him to bed in your bed, remove him to his own room as soon as he is asleep. With patience and the realization that he is getting big enough now, to sleep by himself, you'll divest the change of any aroma of punishment.

Dislike the night bottle of milk. The baby's cry right next to your bed. Try putting him to bed in it and stand beside him, patting him gently or just holding his hand.

Vitamin D a Must For Good Health

The one essential food that is not available in even a good diet is vitamin D—the vitamin that builds strong, healthy bones and teeth. Without it a child's limbs or ribs grow soft and curved.

Health and welfare department officials say that every child needs vitamin D daily throughout the growing years. It is available in liquid capsule or concentrate form for only a few cents a day.

Some Animals Have Protective Coloring

Dear Tawasi:

Everyone knows that tigers have stripes and leopards have spots. But I wonder how many people know why these animals have distinguishing markings? It's an interesting story.

Every animal has protective markings or coloring to match its usual surroundings, so he will not be easily seen by his enemies. That is the reason the zebra has stripes and the giraffe patches all over.

A striped rabbit would be conspicuous among brown clods or withered grass just in the same way a zebra without stripes would show clearly against a background of straw-colored elephant grass or bushes where the light shone through them because the zebra's stripes in the open his stripes are broad and match the shafts of light.

In the same way, the giraffe's darker patches match the shadows thrown by leaves. Each animal's protective coloring suits his needs perfectly. I know you will be able to understand why the rabbit is brown in summer and white in winter. In summer he is difficult to find on the ground and dead leaves while in the winter he is equally difficult to see against white snow.

These markings are of great value when the animal is in danger but they are not particularly useful when the animal is out in the open. In the open a wild heart can approach without being seen and the giraffe and zebra, being slow while they are feeding.

With the same background of their grass stems and bushes, the tiger has the same stripes as the zebra. The leopard has the same spots as the zebra. The same background of their grass stems and bushes, the tiger has the same stripes as the zebra. The leopard has the same spots as the zebra.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

A dreadful thing it is to see how pig-like piglets can be.

Now, wouldn't you suppose that when there is plenty for everybody, everybody would be content and happy? But often, altogether too often it isn't so at all. The more some folks have, the more they want. And there are other folks who, no matter how much they have, seem to think that other folks are not as happy as they are. These folks are the pig-like piglets. They are the ones who are always complaining about what they don't have, even when they have plenty of everything.

Six Indicted In Air Explosion

Manila Time-Bomb Murder Result of Love Triangle

MANILA, June 7.—(UP)—The National Bureau of Investigation announced today that six persons had been indicted on charges of blowing up an airliner with a time-bomb, killing 13 persons in an alleged plot to eliminate a husband in a love triangle.

The plane, a Philippine Airlines craft, disappeared May 7 while en route from Iloilo to Manila. It apparently exploded in flight while over the sea. The bodies of the nine passengers and four crewmen never were recovered.

Dissector J. Pardo de Tavera of the bureau said the indictments had been handed up at Iloilo, Capatzen, Norte province. The criminal complaints charged multiple murder and $50,000 property damage to the plane.

PRINCIPALS NAMED

Alleged principals in the plot were identified in indictments only as John and Mary Doe. The other four named, alleged accomplices, were Amado Salazar, a well known Manila racketeer; Gaston Largo, a convict who allegedly broke jail to participate in the bomb plot; and Domingo A. Pila, 19, son of a wealthy land owner; and Jose Abiera, a taxi driver.

Authorities said that Salazar and Largo already have signed confessions and are being held without bail.

The indictments charge that the six "with evident premeditation" conspired to kill those aboard the plane.

William Crampton, publicity director for the television division of Radio Corporation of America, said today the equipment, worth $100,000, now is en route by rail to the Saskatchewan city.

"It will be the first time in Canadian medical history that operations have been televised so that other doctors may be able to see them and to watch technique of the doctors performing them," he continued.

The convention starts June 13 and continues for three days. The equipment will be set up at the hospital and at the Seashore hotel where the convention is being held.

The operations will be seen on the screen in black and white. The broadcast will be transmitted over a "closed circuit." Crampton, a former Toronto man, said that means the operations will be broadcast by wire instead of on the air and will be visible only to the doctors attending the convention.

TECHNICIANS EN ROUTE
Crampton said the plan is to televise unusual operations rather than routine surgery such as removal of an appendix. The reason for this is that the demonstrations will be watched, not by medical students, but by surgical experts.

A chartered plane is scheduled to leave Philadelphia for Saskatoon tomorrow carrying a number of television technicians. They will install the equipment. The plane is expected to reach Saskatoon Wednesday.

The operation will be televised on a projected screen, larger than the normal-sized screen, Crampton said.

The demonstration is sponsored by Squibb and Company, manufacturers of medical products.

BOSTON, June 7.—(UP)—A new type of synthetic rubber has been developed which will withstand the rigors of the Arctic, the American Chemical Society reports. The product can be used in hoses, conveyor belts, hospital sheeting, gloves and automobile parts.

Salazar and Largo were reported to have said in their confessions that they participated in the plot for a fee of $250. The confessions said the pair were hired to deliver a box to the plane and that they did not know it contained a time-bomb.

The love triangle was said to involve a Filipino woman whose husband was aboard the plane.

$10,000 Reward Up For Lost Artist Clue

MONTREAL, June 7.—(CP)—The Countess de Perle said here yesterday she is offering a $10,000 reward for information leading to the whereabouts of her husband, Osnip de Perle, world-renowned artist, who disappeared from his Miami home May 3.

She came here to check on addresses and telephone numbers of Montreals found in notebooks left by her 12-year-old husband.

When these failed to produce any clue, she said he might be wandering about the city suffering from amnesia. The Countess said her husband loved Montreal, where he lectured at McGill university 25 years ago. He had visited the city only last summer.

It was possible, she said, that he might be held against his will because he was outspoken against the Soviet regime and had made enemies among Communists.

"If he is not suffering from amnesia, he is being involuntarily detained," she said.

He Perle's portraits have hung in museums throughout the world. Among his subjects have been United States President Franklin D. Roosevelt and King Albert of Belgium and former Premier Winston Churchill.

Continuous Mining Coal Production Key

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 7.—(AP)—Some of the greatest gains in bituminous coal production may materialize from the concept of continuous mining, delegates to the Canadian Retail Coal Association convention were told today.

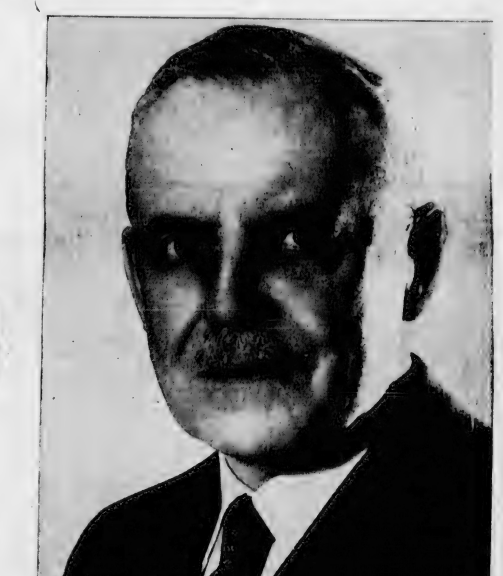

Joseph Pursglove, Jr., vice-president in charge of research and development for Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, declared:

"The big gain from continuous mining will come from evolution and development of an overall method of miner operation. The task . . . is not merely installation of a few machines, but integration of all operations, adaptation of all facilities and orientation of all personnel to the concept of continuous mining."

NEEDS CAPITAL
Pursglove added: "This will take a lot of doing, a lot of time and, undoubtedly, a great deal of capital money."

The official of the world's largest coal company said Pittsburgh Consolidation is working hard to develop more efficient and economical methods of producing gas from coal. He added:

"While this is a comparatively new research project, with us, we feel we are not far from the point where we could, if we had to, produce manufactured gas more efficiently than is presently done in conventional water-gas equipment."

LOUIS ST. LAURENT, Prime Minister of Canada

At the polls on June 27 the voter must ask himself, ahead of anything else, who should be head of the government.

In Louis St. Laurent, Canada has a great national leader.

That he had high abilities of the mind was proved by his career in law. That he had wisdom in cabinet, unique gifts in parliamentary debate and a quick grasp of large affairs became clear as soon as he entered the Government. In international affairs, as one of the original advocates of the Atlantic Pact, he made himself a world figure who spoke out as no Canadian before him, in the councils of the nations.

He also received an understanding of ordinary people, because he is one of them.

This warm and essentially simple human being is the real St. Laurent, the product of the small town, of humble beginnings, hard work, a big family and the friendliness of country neighbors.

In blood, language and instinct he combines the qualities of two great races.

To the voter it is equally important that St. Laurent is the leader of a truly national party, with proved strength from coast to coast, the only party which can hope to form a stable government after the election. His character, his ability and his achievements have made him the leader of all the Canadian people.

Brokerage Houses Jammed With Share-Buying Orgy

JOHANNESBURG, June 7.—(CP)—Never in its business history has Johannesburg had a day like yesterday.

Little ordinary business was done. Brokerage houses were jammed with traders and speculators trying to buy initial shares which soared following an announcement of a rich gold strike in Orange Free State last week.

With a huge weekend accumulation of orders, brokers drove madly at the opening in a record buying pace which sent Free State gold area shares up another pound, then still higher until slight profit-taking eased prices.

A false rumor of another, richer strike near the Krifdani farm, where the first find was made brought conditions to a crescendo of madness. Union Free State shares (pari passu) of the gold areas shot up from 30 to 30 shillings.

Churchill Accuses Bevan Of Threatening Civil War

WESTERHAM, Kent, England, June 7.—(CP)—Winston Churchill today accused Health Minister Aneurin Bevan of threatening "civil war and a blood bath" if the Conservative party is returned to power in Britain.

Addressing a mass meeting Sunday in Blackpool on the eve of the Labor party's annual conference, the fiery Bevan, who often crosses swords with the opposition leader in parliament, said:

"If there is a Tory majority in the next election, [Britain] will have said to the road to progress by means of democratic government is closed... all the roads are closed except the road to tyranny and oppression... except the road to civil war."

Churchill, in a formal statement issued at Chertsey, his country home, called on "the prime minister and the lord president of the council to repudiate this assault upon democratic government."

Churchill rarely issues a formal statement to comment on public events.

The wartime prime minister and

"Then take a look at it. We feed her and they milk her. That's the way it is with the railways and their freight rates."

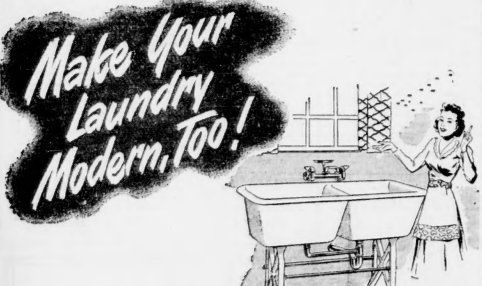

Conservative leader, referring to experiment on the eve of the general election for the Labor party to start up a whole series of industrial strikes for the purpose of preventing a Conservative government being returned."

Churchill said that, according to a press report, Morrison accused him of saying:

"It would be a bright tactical COMPLETE DENIAL."

Commenting on Bevan's remarks, Churchill said:

"Here is no case of threatening labor unrest. Civil war and a blood bath are threatened by the one of the most powerful ministers in the government if the Conservative government is returned at a general election. These threats show a complete ignorance of the character of the British nation which prides representative government and parliamentary institutions and accepts, however much it may regret, the decisions of the electorate."

PITMAN PRESSES REFORM 'Reeacksunaries' Rapped 'On Archaic Spelling Fad'

By STAN BURKE Bulletin Staff Reporter

People in Edmonton are "reeacksunaries" if they were real modern with foresight and vision they would start to simplify their spelling.

"This is how Isaac J. Pitman, the 'orthodox' kind and advocate of spelling reform, would like to see the language."

"Edmonton is a fine progressive city with a great future. I should be in the van of progress even if that progress will need to be won or gradual evolution."

Translated to the archaic English spelling used by the Bulletin, this reads:

"Edmonton is a fine progressive city with a great future. You should be in the van of progress even if that progress will need to be won or gradual evolution."

Get the idea? It's really quite simple.

"Do U noe that in England aum 20 per cent of the people, or dau not need, his message continues, 'looked like find it use difficult to overvum die lissajiklity of our speech?'"

Mr. Pitman explains that "it is used in place of 'it' in some words to avoid confusion between the two pronouns of the latter spelling. Sometimes it is 'think,' 'high' or 'thursday.' Other times the 'that' and 'there.'"

The friendly, mild-mannered Englishman and his wife arrived in Edmonton this morning en route to Quebec where he will attend the biennial convention of the International Chamber of Commerce, of which he is treasurer.

Mr. Pitman received a typical Edmonton welcome this morning. "I don't think there was a word there was no room. For half an hour he paced and provided the most simple and simple was arranged."
